ALOA Scholarship Fund

The ALOA Convention is right around the corner, convening in Baltimore, July 13-20. For those of us living on the east coast, it's an especially opportune time to take advantage of the ALOA Scholarship Fund (ASF). The mission of the ALOA Scholarship Foundation is to provide educational services, programs and assistance for the locksmith/security industry.

ASF is open to just about anyone involved in the locksmith industry, even if you're not a member of ALOA! ASF is also known to be very generous with awarding scholarships to those that apply.

If you're interested in applying, please visit the ASF website at securityscholarship.org. Please keep in mind that applications to attend the ALOA Convention need to be submitted 90 days before the convention starts. But it will be well worth the effort to further your education.

- This month's presenter will be Dave Sharpe from Fried Brothers who will be demonstrating tools that can make work easier.
- National will soon be rolling out a new Fire Door Inspector certification program. Be on the lookout for details coming soon.
- Dues invoices are now in the mail from the national office. DVC members are billed directly from the National office. Please help the national treasurer by being sure to send your dues to the address indicated on the invoice.
- Our chapter now has a new caterer for meals at our general membership meeting. Come for the food...stay for the education! (Oh, and bring a doggy bag.) Says Chairman, John Truempy, "We now have better food than Wawa!"
- DVC is having a clearance sale! We're selling DVC hats for $5 and shirts for $10. Stock up now before they're gone!

Previous General Membership Meeting

President McGlynn called the meeting to order at 7:10 pm. Fourteen members and four guests were in attendance.

Dan discussed some upcoming events, including the SFIC Class to be held on Sunday, February 17. Seats are still available.

Dan then turned the meeting over to John Truempy, national president, who then discussed the new ILA Fire Door Inspector program. He went over the required classes, examination process and fees. More information will be forthcoming in the next few months.

For good of the order, Vernon Kelley reminded everyone that the ALOA Convention will be in Baltimore in July. He talked about the ALOA Scholarship Foundation and how to apply, stating that the Foundation is very generous when awarding scholarships. He held out Dan McGlynn and himself as past recipients. It's a great opportunity to apply since the convention is so close to many members.

The meeting was then turned over to Chief Richard Bailey from the Philadelphia Fire Department Code Enforcement Unit. The Chief talked about the sections of the fire code that institutional locksmith might encounter in the field.

The raffle was held with various prizes being offered. The meeting concluded at 8:27 pm.
